

La Via Console Table | Spanish Beige Marble

A study in contrast—refined surface, raw edge, and grounded form. Constructed from individually laid Spanish Marble tiles, each piece reveals subtle tonal variation and natural movement across its surface. The tiled composition creates a quiet patchwork of stone, giving depth and character while maintaining a clean, cohesive form.

The honed top sits in contrast to the deliberately exposed, chiselled edge- where the stone is left more raw and expressive. This interplay highlights both the precision of the construction and the inherent irregularity of the material.
