Crafted from solid Gmelina & Mahogany wood, the frame is defined by its clarity of form. Clean lines are softened by rounded finial details, giving the stool a subtle sculptural presence without excess. The seat and backrest are handwoven from natural seagrass, introducing texture, variation, and warmth. The weave creates a breathable, tactile surface that balances the solidity of the timber frame.

Proportioned for everyday use, the stool offers a supportive sit while maintaining a refined, pared-back silhouette. Each connection is considered, allowing the materials to speak without interruption. Material-led and grounded in craftsmanship, the Pablo Stool is designed to integrate effortlessly.
